Coach Amal Scott ‘Big Homie’

Amal Scott is an American Football Coach. He began Coaching in 2015 as the Offensive/Defensive Line Coach at the Middlesex School in Massachusetts. After coaching and developing multiple lineman who went on to play collegiate football; and helping the team to a winning record and the 2019 New England Championship, he was promoted to Special Teams Coordinator in 2020, and then Head Coach in 2022. He is now the Defensive Coordinator at Lawrence Academy.

Coach Scott is also an All-American Coach with Football University (FBU), specializing in Defensive Line technique. He also is a National Scout/Evaluator for Football University (FBU), The Show by NextGen, Prep RedZone, and other media Sites.

Coach Scott founded V-12 Elite in 2020 to help High School lineman get continued experience and exposure during the reduced playing days due to COVID. The program has expanded to individual private training, small group training, and the National Travel team. The travel team has visited over 6 US cities and 10 colleges over the last few years and is scheduled to visit at least 3 cities and 5 colleges in 2026. In addition, the travel team now welcomes middle school lineman and already has several registered to travel in 2026.

“Football has done so much for me, I always get excited when it time to teach, develop and coach the next generation.”
